FRANCE COMPLETES PREPARATIONS FOR NEW WAR ON GERMANY TO BE LAUNCHED MAY FIRST IF TERMS OF REPARATIONS AGREEMENT HAVEN'T BEEN MET

SIXTY-EIGHT BOYS AND GIRLS IN LINE FOR GRADUATION FROM COSHOCTON WITH CLASS OF 1921 THURSDAY, MAY 25

"Climb, tho the rocks be rugged."

This is the motto chosen by the Coshocton high school class of '21 which will say farewell to the familiar scenes in the Central high school Thursday evening, May 25, the date of the commencement

On that evening, those of the class that have conscientiously lived up to their chosen motto during the past year will be presented with a dipioma, certifying to the world that the holder has been a diligent worker in high school and has successfully mastered all educational subjects encountered in high school. The diploma will mean that the first big step towards an honorable place in the world has been taken successfully, and will encourage the owner to climb on, remembering the struggles of high school life and the work necessary to keep going.

Of the 27 boys and 41 girls enrolled in the senior class, 60 per cent have signified their intention of attending college after the close of their high school career. Many of the members of the class have already chosen their life work. The majority of the girls who are planning on any special kind of career, have chosen teaching for an occupation.

The choice of the boys is more varied. The following is the choice

New York won from Philadelphia by the score of 3 to 1.

Ruth's homer Saturday was the fifth of its kind since the official opening of the baseball season in the American league Gardiner, Sewell and Smith, three Cleveland Indian regulars are credited with three of the five homers.

Doughty Republic Serves Notice to The World That Time For Words Is Past And She Will Strike Hard And On Her Own Initiative—Seizure Of Ruhr Coal Districts First Objective

PARIS April 16 - France today put the finishing touches on her preparations for a new war on Germany if such becomes necessary. If Germany fails on May 1 to meet the reparations demands submitted to her by the allies at the conference of Loudon, France will tell the world that the time for words has passed and that the hour has come to strike—and strike hard, if her allies decline to co-operate with her she is determined to strike alone.

Occupation of the Ruhr district, Germany's richest reservoir of natural resources, will be the first blow that France means to deal if Berlin tries to resume "stalling."

Premier Briand informed the cabinet this morning that it might be advisable to occupy also some of the regions adjoining the Ruhr district, including part of Westphalia.

It is estimated that the additional occupation of German territory will bring France an annual revenue of 3,000,000,000 marks

Marshall Foch's plans for that occupation worked out months ago to the minutest detail were approved by the cabinet today

Moreover, his plan for an increase of the pesent forces upon the Rhine by fifty per cent also were sanctioned by the ministers. This means making the army of occupation so formidable that it could easily overwhelm any German resistance. Foch's plans call for a reduction at a later date when it will appear safe:

The cabinet also put its "OK" on the marshall's suggestion to mobilize the classes of 1918 and 1919.

Nor were measures for economic pressure overlooked. Minister Loucheur submitted a comprehensive plan for taxation of the coal and industrial products leaving the Ruhr valley, and this, too, was approved by the government.

All plans will be forwarded to the governments of Great Britain, Italy and Belgium by Premier Briand early next week. Britain and Italy will be urged to lend their moral support if they cannot send troops.

France is willing if necessary to shoulder the military burden but she is more eager than ever to show Berlin that it is facing an allied moral front, as powerful and unbroken as it was thruout the war.

GREEK REVERSES IN ASIA MINOR MAY CAUSE PREMIER'S FALL; SMYRNA THREATENED AS GREEKS CALL MORE MEN TO COLORS

View of the city and harbor of Smyrna; Gen. Demetrios Gounaris, and map showing Greek army penned up at Brusa, and the imperiled Smyrna zone.

Serious military reverses in Asia Minor will result in the immediate overthrow of Premier Calogeropomlos' cabinet, a report from Athens says. General Gounaris is mentioned as the next premier. The rank and file of the army are expresing dissatisfaction with General Gounaris owing to his flamboyant promises to capture Angora in a month, and the entire government may fall, including King Constantine.

The French officials learn the entire hold of the Greeks in Asia Minor is threatened, even including Smyrna occupation, owing to the dissatisfaction among the troops and the threatening attitude of the Turkish population at Littoral, which greatly outnumbers the Greeks.

It is believed if the nationalist leader, Kemal, is able to exploit Smyrna he can drive the Greeks to the sea. Cavalry officers and noncommissioned officers between 1901 and 1915 have been called to the colors by the Greeks.

FOUR STATES IN PATH OF WILD STORM

Death List Passes 50 Late Saturday And Was Still Growing

VAST AREA IS SWEPT

Property Damage Amounts To Million Mark As Facts Are Learned

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., April 16—An area vast as an empire, in Albama, Arkansas, Texas and Mississippi is taking stock tonight of one of the most destructive tornadoes of many years. It probably will be years before the exact amount of damage is definitely known. Most authentic reports available place the death toll tonight at 52, with the probability that the figures may be augmented. Figures on the monetary loss as yet are indefinite, but are believed to be not less than one million.

With grim death and destruction stalking in its wake, the tornado last night cut a wide swath through Hempstead and Miller counties taking a known death toll of 39.

More than fifty injured from rural communities in the two stricken counties are being attended by physicians in the hospital at Hope today, while friends and relatives continued to search debris piled high upon the farms in the hope of extricating additional dead.

Telephone and telegraph poles were uprooted, wire communication demoralized and railway tracks washed out in the districts where the twister meted out destruction.

The property damage is estimated this afternoon at half a million dollars. Creeks are swollen from heavy rains that fell thruout the southwestern part of the state last night.

Relief trains were sent from here and Texarkana to Hope, Sheppard and other points along the Missouri Pacific R. R. Physicians readily helped the suffering. A municipal relief bureau is operating at Texarkana and Hope where the injured were carried.

Railroad traffic from Texarkana northwestward is hampered today by soggy road beds caused by the driving rain

The heavist death toll was taken in the Marlbrook community where eleven persons went down before the whistling fury of the storm which swept from Cass-co, Texas from whence it came so swiftly that storm cellars were useless.

WASHINGTON April 16—The storm that hit the southwest will move northeastward during the next 24 hours, the weather bureau announced today. Colder weather will follow the storm, the bureau predicts.

WIFE BRINGS SUIT FOR DIVORCE; SAYS HUSBAND'S VICIOUS

Josephine Vedy, 215 south Second-st has brot suit against Michael Vedy in probate court. They were married in Massillon, January 14, 1900 and have three children.

The plaintiff charges the defendant with extreme cruelty, having struck the plaintiff and offered her physical violence and abused her by calling her vile and vicious names. The defendant is charged with having such a violent, vicious and uncontrollable temper, that he will throw dishes to the floor, hurl food around the house, and then threaten to kill the plaintiff if she complains.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant has threatened to burn their home if she takes the matter to court. Because of the misconduct, violence and abuse of the defendant she has lived in a state of constant terror, and her health and nerves are seriously impaired, according to the petition.

The petition states the plaintiff and the defendant are joint owners of the property at 215 south Second-st where they reside. A mortgage of $1,350 is held against the property.

The plaintiff states that she believes that the defendant will offer her serious violence as soon as he learns of the action she has taken. She says that he earns $4.75 a day at the Clow plant, and she fears that he will refuse to support her now. She asks an injunction restraining him from coming on the premises of their home, and from seling any of their property, and restraining him from drawing his salary at the Clow plant.

C. Homer Durand will represent the plaintiff.

RETAILERS CLASH WITH PRODUCERS OVER MILK COSTS

At a meeting of the local retail milk dealers and producers held Friday evening in regard to the drop in the price of milk, a satisfactory agreement could not be arrived at and the meeting broke up in a near riot.

The producers are willing to wholesale the milk, bottled, to the distributor for 30 cents per gallon, but the retailer wants the producer to stand the whole reduction and is not willing to sacrifice a cent on the gallon. The producer is now receiving 30 cents per gallon for bottled milk and the distributor gets 56 cents for the same. The latter is willing that the price be lowered but refuses to stand a part of the loss, retailers say.

If a satisfactory agreement cannot be reached, new wagons will probably be started to care for the excess supply, or the producer will be forced to dispose of the milk locally, in some other way.

TONSILLITIS CLAIMS LIFE OF SENIOR IN LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

William Cale West, aged 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry West, 1313 East Chestnut-st, a member of the Senior class of the Central high school and a member of the class to graduate this June, was called by death Saturday. His death was due to Vincent's angina, following a severe case of tonsillitis.

The young man took suddenly ill last Sunday with a sore throat, but his condition did not become alarming until Wednesday. From Wednesday until the time of his death he was suffering severely. Vincent's angina is an inflammatory throat disease. The young man's throat was swollen completely shut.

William West was born in Coshocton April 24, 1903. His eighteenth birthday would have been a week from today. He spent his entire life here

He began his school work at the age of six in the Bancroft building. He advanced rapidly until he became a Senior in 1920. He would have graduated last year, but he accepted a position as telegraph operator for the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad company in Kemery and Conotton, O. He worked as operator for the W. & L. E for one year.

William specialized in telegraphy. He was a student of radio work. He had a complete radio outfit and would have been a licensed radio operator by next week, had he lived. During his leisure hours and in addition to his school work he had learned Morse telegraphy. He liked to work with electricity. He was a capable young man in handling either the wireless apparatus or the Morse system.

He was known for his jovial disposition and winning personality. He was admired by everyone who became acquainted with him. He attended the United Brethren church.

He is survived by his parents, four brothers, Harold, 15; Robert, 11; Carl, 8 and Junior, 3, and one sister, Leona, 21.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the United Brethren church with Rev. L. J. Hopper in charge Burial will be made in South Lawn cemetery.

BAZAAR WILL BE CONTINUED THRU THREE MORE DAYS

Owing to the fact the White Elephant Bazaar being conducted at the Wernette home on north Seventh and Main-sts, under the auspices of the scholarship fund committee of the City Federated clubs has been a huge success, the same committee has planned to continue the bazaar Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Practically all of the clothes were sold at reasonable prices. Dishes and other household goods together with other miscellaneous articles were disposed of at a handsome profit.

The scholarship committee is again pleading with the public for more old clothes, in good condition. Ladies' and children's clothing are needed, as the majority of the customers at the bazaar were calling for that kind of apparel.

OTHER SCHOOLS OF COUNTY PLAN FOR COMMENCEMENTS

Because of the fast that the Plainfield high school is to be raised to a second class school next year, the eight girls and five boys, who otherwise would have graduated this year will be required to complete another year in the school before their course is considered finished.

Thursday, April 28 has been set for the commencement date of the Fresno high school, according to B. J. Fisher, principal Four boys and six girls will graduate at that time Three boys and three girls are planning to go thru college, the other boy will take up a business course, and the three remaining girls will go to normal school

Veri Todd was elected president of the class, Rosa Wyler, secretary, and Matilda Maurer, treasurer They chose scarlet and gray for their colors, attaching the significance of braver lives and character of sterling strength to the colors The motto is "We pass for what we are"

Rev. F. A. Lahn will speak at the commencement exercises.

Rev. J. A Speer has been requested to speak at the Conesville graduation ceremonies at Conesville Friday evening April 27

Miss Helen Crile, principal of the high school there has announced that there will be four boys and seven girls gradute from the school. They all intend to finish their high school training at the Coshocton school, having only three years at Conesville.

Emory Lapp is president of the Conesville graduating class, and Ralph Brown is secretary. The class motto is "Labor conquers all" and their colors are cardinal and green.

IS IMPROVING

Samuel Taylor, Hickory-st. said to have attempted to commit suicide by jumping from the rear platform of the west bound passenger train No. 341 last Thursday morning, was reported at the City hospital to be slightly improved.

BRITISH WAR WITH MINERS AT A CRISIS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 16—"The Waterloo in the war between labor and capital is near, "Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, declared tonight Four million workers are out of employment, according to late reports received by the Federation and based on a survey made in more than 500 cities, the labor leaders announced.

"Organized labor has no fear of the outcome" Morrison declared "The moneyed interests are in the saddle They control congress, they control the legislatures They are in a gigantic conspiracy to keep labor tied to its job and to rifle the pockets of both workers and the public Their policy is rule or ruin an "iron and blood" policy that seeks to crush labor even if they have to starve the public to do it," Morrison added

MAIL FREQUENTLY IS ADVICE FROM POSTAL OFFICIALS

Train yourself to mail frequently during the day instead of holding the bulk of mail until evening before depositing it is the national advice of Postmaster General Will H Hays to the public in cooperating with the postoffice men in establishing better mail service

According to Postmaster Hays, the public has made it a practice to hold their mail until evening before mailing it, thus rushing the postoffice clerks and consequently making a peak which is impossible adequately to handle

Mr Hays says that if the public especially the large mail users would follow the government's lead in an earnest effort to cover frequent mailings, there will be beneficial results obtained

Mailing during the morning and early afternoon clears the way for expeditious handling and dispatch of the important evening mails Matter mailed early in the day reaches the large business centers at a time when it can be most conveniently and therefore is more likely to receive prompt delivery

WOMEN OF FARM ARE DISCONTENTED

Demand More Labor Saving Appliances to Lighten Their Work.

Discouragement, disappointment, fatigue as a result of overwork, loneliness—these are the chief reasons why some farm housewives would like to leave the country, according to their letters as written to a western editor. And no factor is closer to the heart of the problem than the lack of labor saving household aids.

One woman emphasizes the poor opportunities which the farm affords for her children. They cannot have the good education nor the start in business which city boys and girls enjoy. Another would like to move in town because then it would be possible to attend church and Sunday . school every Sunday morning.

"In the neighborhood where I live," states a taird, "it is almost impossible to have a social gathering of any kind. If I were the 'lonesome kind,' I would often suffer with the blues."

But all of those whose letters were published complained of the lack of conveniences which would lighten labor for the farm woman. Here's how one woman put it:

"My husband is a good man, but like most men does not see how hard the work is. Our lives are more than half gone. I do not want money spent on a fine casket and flowers when I am dead. I want baths, a sink and water in the kitchen, an electric washer, electric iron and electric lights. I want a fence to keep the chickens out of the yard. Then the flowers will grow where I can see them. I shall teach my boys never to take a wife on a farm and let her drudge just because their mother was no better off.

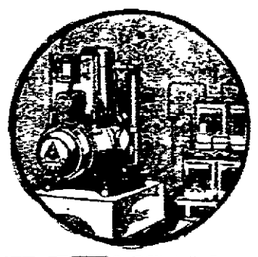

"I believe that is why so many wives want to move to town. We work so hard to help make money; we want conveniences so we can do our work easier and in less time. If men would let their wives know they were never going to have modern homes, many a woman would go where she could have electricity; she would wash for a living, if necessary; then she would at least have more spare time.

"I do not believe in debt, but if a wife dies the money is found somehow, somewhere for funeral expenses. Why not put in a light and water system so she can manage her work better and spend more time with the chickens to help pay for it? How we love to work when there is something to look forward to; but i If cannot have even a part of these conveniences, I want to leave the farm."

The story these letters tell is doubly pitiful because it seems unnecessary that women should have to wear out their lives when electric farm power is available to do the work efficiently and quietly, saving untold distress, creating health and happiness, is a tragedy, dealers who sell farm lighting-power plants contend.

THEATRE IS MADE INTO MOVIE HOUSE FOR BIGGER FILMS

The Sixth Street theatre will enter the moving picture field May 1, according to announcement of Manager James Hagans, Saturday.

Two complete moving picture machines have been installed in a fire proof booth in the center rear of the gallery of the theatre. The machines were installed by the theatre electrician, Fred Randles.

A heavy rubber-backed screen, 12x16 feet has been placed in the center of the stage. It is arranged to roll up to the top of the stage during the presentation of a legitimate show at the theatre, and can be immediately drawn down and stretched on a moment's notice. The screen is placed well to the rear of the stage, enabling a person occupying a seat in the front row of the down stairs to see the picture with the same ease and comfort as a person in the center of the theatrer.

Scenery to fit along the wings of the stage up to the moving picture screen have been ordered and will be placed soon. Large palms will be set at the sides of the stage, making an attractive setting for the screen.

Manager Hagans says he will show moving pictures three nights a week during the theatrical season and during the summer months a movie will be shown each night. The pictures will all be first run pictures, according to Manager Hagans. Contracts have been made with a Cleveland producing company and the first pictures will be shown the first of May. Now pictures featuring such stars as Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Charley Chaplin and the famed Griffith productions will be brot to the Sixth Street, Hagans said.

Because of so many road shows closing their season early this year the present season will be finished out with movies, Hagans explained.

Seats may be reserved for the pictures as usual with the possible exception of matinees. Only one show will be given in an evening.

In connection with the new enterprise at the theater, a string of electric lights from the theater to Main-st will be hung soon to light up the street, which happens to be an unusually dark one, by reason of the solid row of buildings.

AMATEUR LEAGUE OPENS MAY 2 AT RED SEA DIAMOND

The Industrial baseball league will open the season at the Red Sea diamond, Monday May 2, with Tyndall and Clows contending. The following two weeks' schedule is:— Tuesday Wednesday, Art Works and Hunt-Crawford-Beach. On Monday May 9, Tyndal will play the pottery; Tuesday, Clows and Hunt-Crawford-Beach and Wednesday, Glass House and Art Works-Glove factory.

There are only six teams in the Industrial league this year. Last year there were eight. The six teams are considerably stronger this year than last as the weaker teams have combined and strengthened the teams in the present league.

The season tickets this year, good for all Industria games at the Red Sea diamond are $1 The tickets are now on sale and each Industrial team manager has a definite number to sell.

Orley Hershman has resigned as secretary-treasurer of the league and the vacancy has been filled by Ward Johnston.

The Glass house team will be out for practice Tuesday and the H-C-Beach aggregation will trot out Wendnesday.

Ward Slaughter, one of Coshocton-co's veteran baseball players will probably be secured to umpire all the Industrial games this season at the Red Sea Park

TOIL AND TROUBLE

"I MUST admit that life in the sylvan solitudes has its drawbacks in the winter time," confessed the wild man of the woods. "There are times when I think with pensive longing of the heating stove we had in our vine-covered cottage in town, and wish I were seated by it.

"And then come painful recollections which not only reconcile me to my cave in the woods but convince me that I am the most fortunate of men. The thing we call comfort is a delusion. The more modern a house is, the greater nuisance it becomes. The poet says, 'In happy homes we see the light of fireides gleaming warm and bright,' and the description is alluring; but have you ever been responsible for one of those fireplaces gleaming warm and bright? If so, you know it costs more than it's worth.

"My wife was an admirable woman in every respect, and I never weary of extolling her splendid qualities of heart and mind, but she was a crank on neatness. Our house always was like a new pin. She wouldn't stand for anything that looked like disorder, and this characteristic of hers caused me much misery.

"We had an old-fashioned heating stove which burned big chunks of wood, and it might have been possible to be comfortable by it in wintry weather, had my wife been of a more liberal mind. When it became apparent to the most casual observer that bad weather was coming, I wanted to bring in enough wood to last until the elements took in their sign. My plan was to have a large box behind the stove, and fill it with wood. But my beloved Arabella said she'd be everlastingly keelhauled and kerflummixed before she'd have an old woodbox in the sitting room. She exhausted her energy and intellect, she said, making our sitting room a credit to the family, and she wasn't going to have any old boxes kicking around.

"Neither would she permit me to pile a reserve supply of wood in the kitchen. She argued that the kitchen should be as orderly and neat as the parlor, and there was no more striking evidence of bad housekeeping than piles of wood here and there.

"You may ask why I didn't put my foot down and assert myself as head of the family, but when a man has been married a few years he gets tired of putting his foot down, since it never accomplishes anything. He is willing to make any sacrifice for the sake of balmy peace.

"The result of my wife's attitude on this question was that I had to be always drilling out to the woodshed for fuel, and there's nothing more disgusting than leaving a warm sitting room on such an errand. Before leaving the house I had to put on my overshoes, so I wouldn't bring in any snow when I returned. Having secured my armload of wood, I had to lay it down on the back porch while I took off my overshoes, and then gather it up again and carry it into the house.

"This done, my estimable wife would follow my track to the back door, with her hands in the air, in a gesture of despair, saying I had left a trail of bark and slivers and other refuse, and if I had the first instincts of a gentleman I'd clean up the mess I had made. Having the second as well as the first instincts of a gentleman, I got the broom and dustpan and removed the debris. It was the same way when I carried out the ashes. I never could carry out ashes without dropping samples on the floor, and then I'd have to get down on my marrowbones and clean up, and by the time I seated myself by the stove to rest, the fire would be low again, and I'd have to scoot into the howling tempest once more. It was this sort of thing that drove me, a homeless wanderer, from the busy haunts."

The Soul of Gallantry.

"I'm so sorry," said the beautiful motorist who had knocked down a pedestrian.

"Madam," replied her victim, as he made a sweeping bow, "I can't say that it's a pleasure to be struck by an automobile but when the driver happens to be such a fair creature as you, I find that my vocabulary of oaths is reduced to a simple 'Tut, tut.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Advantages.

Peter Lower was digging away at the weeds in his potato patch. "Makes it much harder to have the weeds so thick, don't it?" remarked Lem Beebe, leaning over the fence.

"Nope, easier," declared Pete; "you don't have to walk so far to the next weed."—Everybody's Magazine.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG

In Marah Ellis Ryan's Magnificent Story Of Wondrous California

"For the Soul of Rafael"

See Beautiful Clara Kimball Young At Her Best In This Wondrous Love Story Of Old California.

"GLORIOUS AS THE SUNSET," "SWEET AS A MISSION BELL."

Entrancing As Life Itself Exactly As You Will See It Portrayed.

—In presenting Clara Kimball Young in her latest and greatest picture 'FOR THE SOUL OF RAFAEL,' Marah Ellis Ryan's beautiful love story of ald California, the management of this theatre wishes to state that it knows this production to be by far the finest production Miss Young has ever appeared in. In artistry and details, this picture stands out in clear cut relief as a brilliant example of the great strides that have been made in the filming of exceptional stories in an exceptional way, and when we say that this picture surpasses "Eyes Of Youth" in which Clara Kimball Young electrified the country, you may well know that you have a rare photo dramatic treat in store.

—In this fascinating story of love, youth, beauty, romance and adventure in the days when might was right and when American knighthood was in flower comes the startling contrast of the old with the new. In the land where passions held under tropical skies, where beauty and love ran riot you will see portrayed on the screen one of the most fascinating plots ever told upon the silver screen, wondrously enacted by Clara Kimball Young at her very best supported by a brilliant cast. IT'S THE ONE BIG PRODUCTION OF THE YEAR THAT YOU SIMPLY MUST NOT MISS. Filmed at huge cost, taking more than 5 months in the making. The picture that millions will see.

When Bees Go "on Strike."

Bees will not work when they think that their queen is gone. There is something fatalistic about their attitude. They become dejected, and morose and lazy—there is a "what's the use" droop to their movements. Their only reason for their being is storing up honey for the young of the future. With need of that gone, they seem to universally agree that there is no need of labor. They sit down on the job, eat until the food is all gone and then starve to death.

RODNEY BROOKE AND MISS HARRISON WED AT AKRON THURSDAY

Beautiful in all its simplicity was the wedding of Rodney Brooke, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Brooke, 601 Vine-st and Miss Eleanor Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrison, of Akron, which occrured Thursday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, in the home of the bride's parents.

The impressive Episcopal service and ring ceremony was read in the presence of the families of the bridal couple.

The bride was lovely in an elaborately embroidered gown fashioned of marinette crepe and carried a shower of bride's roses. The couple was unattended.

Following the marriage service a twilight wedding repast was served to the guests.

The Harrison home was profusely decorated with ferns and cut flowers and in the dining room where the guests were seated, bowls of pink and lavender sweet peas, graced the centers of the tables while candles, softly shaded in pink and lavender were especialy pretty and dainty.

Mrs. Brooke is a very attractive and accomplished young lady and very popular in Akron social circles.

The bride-groom was graduated from the Coshocton high school and later attended Ohio State university where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity. He is also affiliated with the local Phi Sigma chi fraternity and is unusually popular among his many friends and associates. After serving several months in France and Belgium with the 37th division, Mr. Brooke became located in Akron, where he is at present engaged as salesman for the Smith hardware company.

The bride's going away suit was of dark blue and she wore a feathing hat to correspond.

After a short automobile trip thru northern Ohio, the couple will be at home to their numerous friends at the home of Mrs. Brooke's parents, Avonlay.

Among those from a distance attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Brooke and granddaughter, Anna Margaret Cassady, of this city and Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Gray, of Adams Mills.

Teachers To Elect Retirement Board Member In State

One teacher who is a member of the state teacher's retirement system is to be elected a member of the retirement board May 2, 1921, for a term of two years, beginning September 1, 1921. The candidates are M. Emma Brookes, Cleveland, M. B. Wooten, Cincinnati, Anna E. Logan, Cincinnati and C. J. Tylee, Youngstown.

Each teacher who is a member of the state teachers' retirement system is entitled to vote.

The time and places of voting will be announced later by County Superintendent L. C. Shaw.

ANOTHER FREAK EGG IS BROT TO LIGHT

John King, 538 Cemetery-st, presents another egg for approval.

Mr. King has a nice flock of White Wyandotte chickens, and nothing but chickens. Remember this when you read the story. He keeps chickens not geese.

While gathering his eggs Saturday he came upon a nice large white mound lying in one of the nests. It was an extraordinarily large egg. When measured, it was found that the longitudinal circumference of the egg was 9 inches and the girth measurement was 7 inches.

Mr. King says that this is the third extra large egg he has found in the past few days, altho this one was the largest.

It would seem by the records brot to notice, that Coshocton-co hens are the real articles in laying great number of eggs extra large eggs, and double eggs.

IS SERIOUSLY ILL

The condition of J. A. Finlay, who has been seriously ill at his home in the Keene vicinity, was unimproved Saturday.

THE SUNLIT WAY

By AGNES BROGAN.

(©, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

Jasmine rode every morning, down the sunlit way. The park surrounding her big shabby home was gloomy in it's wealth of trees. The house was gloomy, too; so in her hour of recreation, Jasmine chose the sunlit way.

Jasmine, seated on her white horse, Bonnie, loved to dream, at the water's edge, of that other world so far away, and yet near, where other young people laughed and talked, and sang together.

Since her mother's death, when she had been too young to remember, the girl had known little companionship save that of Ursula, the housekeeper, and James Rhodes, her father. James Rhodes, aged prematurely by disappointment and sorrow, was a severe man.

The one friend who continued to bear with his humors was John Westwood of Westwood place, next door. And as James Rhodes, in his broken-hearted isolation—for he had never ceased to mourn his wife's loss—grew poorer, John Westwood, energetic and successful in business, grew ever richer.

Now, the one stubborn desire of the old thwarted man was to make that wealth his daughter's, through her marriage to his friend.

John Westwood admired Jasmine very much; he loved her, he said, and would make her happy. So Jasmine grievously disturbed, rode every morning down the sunlit way, trying to think out an escape from the impending fate. The girl in absorbing tenderness for her father, could not bear to deny his heart's one desire, and yet—

A stranger sat at the end of the sunlit road one day, a young and idle stranger, with arms clasped behind his head against the tree on which he leaned, and brown hair blown by the breeze from his high, white forehead. As the young man's frank blue eyes came back from their survey of the river, they rested upon Jasmine—seated there on her horse, in a kind of joyous wonder.

"You?" asked the young man, dreamily, "who are you?"

And also smilingly wondering, the girl replied: "I am Jasmine."

The stranger nodded.

"Of course," he said, "I might know that you would be Jasmine—when you came. A white flower."

Strangely acquiescent, she allowed him to take the bridle from her hand and lead her to a seat on the grass at his side.

"You come from the old house, Jasmine?" the young man asked.

"You see, I know that there are but two houses, and John Westwood lives in the other."

"Yes," she answered slowly, "from the old house."

"And you are?" he hesitated over his question.

Then Jasmine smiled.

"I am," she told her questioner, "occupied there as—companion."

She was away before the stranger could detain her, flying on Bonnie's back, up the sunlit road. In the somber silence of the park trees, the girl calmed, and her eyes grew wistful. Had it not all been a dream? Yet she went again, and still again, and every coming found him waiting. Then firmly Jasmine told herself that the meetings must end. It was the white horse who carried her there.

"I did not mean to come," she told the young man, decidedly. "Bonnie brought me."

"And your heart led Bonnie," he answered laughing softly, in confident assurance.

"But now that I have come," the girl went on, "I shall stay only to confess my deceit, and then—good-by. I, am Jasmine Rhodes, and I am to marry John Westwood."

"You!" gasped the young man, "to marry my crabbed old uncle? You, my little white flower!"

"Your uncle," she faltered confusedly.

The lover impatiently nodded.

"I came down to visit my uncle," he said. "He is putting me through college. Through all his crustiness, my uncle has an affection for me. But if you think that I shall let you marry him—"

Young John Westwood broke off abruptly.

"There is only one way to straighten it all," he said, "and we must hurry. My roadster will carry us quicker than Bonnie. It's on the river road. First, we will have to get a license. Then you shall come back here as my wife. Wealth can mean nothing to you as compared with love. Come, dear heart."

But Jasmine lingered.

"Some day," she said, "I will go with you. But first, I must be honest with both my father and his friend."

From behind the shelter of a tree came suddenly old John Westwood. "I would advise you, my dear," he said quietly, "to obey now the dictate of your heart. This lad is a good lad, and true love is more than money. I, myself, shall see your father, and after all, I am sure he will be well pleased with my nephew as son-in-law, when he learns that I shall make him my heir."

"Oh," murmured Jasmine, "how can you be so generously kind!"

Old John Westwood smiled.

"Until this morning," he said, "it has been many long years since I glimpsed the Sunlit Way."

Financial Letter

NEW YORK April 16—The constructive and helpful message to business contained in President Harding's opening address to Congress on Tuesday last shows that prompt and vigorous effort is to be made to remove some of the handicaps under which domestic commerce is struggling. The message is to be highly commended for its conservative tone and for pointing out the need of remedies to be adopted to bring back normal conditions. This will necessarily take time as the problems to be solved are serious, but we are moving in the right direction. Such a prospect and the evident intent of Congress to act promptly as well as a somewhat further brightening of the industrial prospect have made the week a more hopeful one in financial circles. Latest advices from Great Britain regarding the threatened tie-up of the transportation interests to aid the striking miners, are also more reassuring and hope is now held out that the labor question on the other side will soon be settled.

Steel Price Revisions.

The most striking industrial development of the past week has unquestionably been the revision of steel prices by the U. S. Steel Corporation to an extent varying from about 10 to about 15 per cent of the prices which have been maintained during the past two years. The level of values still remains slightly higher than the figures set by the independents while in some lines, notably rails and wire nails, there is no reduction. Nevertheless the price cut is sufficient to bring the prices of the Steel Corporation into harmony with the average level established for wholesale prices as a whole so far as index numbers indicate. This revision of prices is not isolated, but is only one of several other steps in important lines of industry which point to a definite settling of the business structure upon a new basis. Demand has notably increased in the automobile trade, while textile industries continue to show further growth in activity.

The Railroad Situation

It continues to be true that the railroad situation is the sorest spot in the present business organism. President Harding in his address to Congress rightly referred to it as a general source of difficulty and indicated the necessity of reducing both rates and expenses. The current earnings statements issued by the roads show a general deficit of over $7,000,000 for the month of February, while the statement issued by even the Northern Pacific Railway Company shows a net reduction of over two thirds from the surplus earnings (after dividends) of a year ago. Freight movements have not improved in any considerable measure. Now that the Railroad Labor Board, however, has abrogated the national wage agreements the way should be paved for a return to more normal conditions. At any rate the outlook is decidedly more hopeful and the Board is to be commended for its prompt action.

Federal Legislation

President Harding's message wisely emphasizes revenue revision as the foremost business of Congress altho it holds out little hope of any actual lightening of taxes save thru the repeal of the excess profits tax. Senator Smoot, however, has brot forward a plan for a simple sales tax with a rate possibly as low as 1 per cent which he believes will provide a substantial amount of revenue. According to the figures given by President Harding internal revenue receipts must not be allowed to fall below $4,000,000,000, which is practically their present yield, so that whatever is done in the way of a sales tax would practically have to take the place of the income received from excess profits taxes at the present time. There might be a certain relief due to reduction of Federal appropriations consequent upon a policy of economy, which altho widely advocated seems to have only very moderate prospects of success. The introduction of the emergency tariff and anti-dumping bill has been practically simultaneous with the offering of similar bills in Great Britain, so that a basis for tariff warfare has apparently been laid.

Public and Private Interest Rates

Adoption by the British Treasury of the plan of placing Treasury bills through bidding rather than thru distribution at a fixed rate of interest is by some believed to foreshadow a reduction of rates for such bills which would be tantamount to the lowering of the level of interest in the British market. The expected cut in the Bank rate has not materialized, a fact which is ascribed by some to the disturbed conditions growing out of the strike threat. Meantime the increase of the Federal Reserve System's ratio and the continuous importation of gold have caused improvement in the reserve position of the country and give assurance of easier credit conditions provided that the liquidation of loans proceeds. As to whether the current increase of gold holdings can or will lead to a general reduction of discount rates in this country there is difference of opinion with no definite indications thus far, altho the lowering by the Boston Reserve Bank of its rate to 6 per cent is encouraging. Improvement in the quotation of foreign exchanges has been chiefly due to the better prospects for a settlement of industrial difficulties.

Market Review and Outlook

Trading during the week has been on a moderate basis with attention chiefly concentrated upon a few groups of issues. There has been a pretty general disposition to sell the steels, oils and tobaccos, while a more favorable attitude has been adopted toward shipping and copper stocks and a number of industrial shares which had previously been roughly handled. Little or no change has occurred in general conditions. As is well known, a considerable portion of the daily transactions are among professional traders who for the most part are still bearishly inclined. The fact however, that bad news no longer makes any deep indentation on values is shown by the conspicuous strength in the coppers. With the mines closed down and dividends in most instances passed the situation could scarcely be more discouraging. Nevertheless there seems to be a demand for the shares of the leading copper companies by those who are taking a long look ahead. This is the proper view to take with respect to the entire market. It is freely conceded that there are a number of discouraging features with which the market has to contend, but it is only a question of time before these will disappear. It should be borne in mind that the stock market has a habit of discounting nearly everything six months in advance.

FEDERAL VOCATIONAL

Wright & Mathews at Warsaw.

Victor P. Sdaker is taking a course as linotype operator with the Coshocton Tribune Co.

Earl L. Corbett of West Lafayette is learning the machinist trade with the Buckeye Machine Tool Co. at New Philadelphia.

There are a few other ex-service men from Coshocton county taking courses at different colleges and universities that will fit them for positions when their course is completed.

Other ex-service men in the city and county have cases pending upon which the federal board has not yet passed.

From this it can be seen how extensive, comprehensive and of general utility is this work of re-habilitation being carried on by the government.

It is just possible that all of the ex-service men with disability of 10 per cent or more, incurred while in the service do not understand the opportunity afforded them by the government thru the Federal Board of Vocational Education.

As near as the Red Cross can estimate there are approximately eighty ex-service men in Coshocton and Coshocton-co entitled to this training. The men are allowed to select their own course of educational training and are provided with free tuition, text books, and tools with a monthly cash provision for their maintenance while taking the course. This cash maintenance is sent them promptly on the first and fifteenth of every month and varies in amounts from one hundred dollars ($100) per month, for a single man, up to one hundred and thirty five dollars ($135) per month for a man with a wife and child.

The government has made it possible for every man who was in the service and who left the service with a disability of 10 per cent or more to fit himself for a position of usefulness and comfortable sustenance for himself and family.

The government has not only made this provision but is anxious that every man entitled to the training should take advantage of it.

Ex-service men in Coshocton and Coshocton-co who have not yet made themselves familiar with these opportunities and provisions should call at the Red Cross offices in the Frew building and become informed as to their privileges and opportunities under this law. The Red Cross will be glad to give the information and assist the man in taking the necessary preliminary steps to enter upon training.

In addition to the technical and mechanical courses provided, courses in agriculture, fruit growing, poultry raising are also provided.

This is a generous and wonderful opportunity afforded a man who answered the government's call to service and has become partially or wholly disabled by reason of that service.

The Red Cross offices are open every day in the week, except Sunday, from 8:30 to 12:00 o'clock in the morning and from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

HERRICK AND HARVEY APPOINTMENTS GIVEN SENATE ENDORSEMENT

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The appointment of Col. Harvey to be ambassador to London and Myron T. Herrick of Ohio to be ambassador to France was confirmed today.

Col. Harvey's confirmation had some opposition from Democratic senators.

It was necessary to take a roll call on Harvey and the result showed 47 for his confirmation to 20 against. It is understood the opposition to him came from the Democratic side of the chamber where his harsh criticism of the Wilson administration during the last campaign made him many bitter opponents.

There was no opposition to Herrick's confirmation, it is understood.

The Arch Criminal

WHEN will society be willing to take the word of nine-tenths of the physicians that neither whiskey nor beer nor any other beverage intoxicant is medicine and unnecessary in the practice of their profession?

When will the world learn that no responsible class in society is at all interested in the return of the pre-prohibition days? When will legislators learn to discriminate between the idle bluff and threats of the old brewery crowd and the desires of nine-tenths of the right minded men and women of the United States?

Even in New York city the majority of thinking, sober minded people are totally uninterested in the overthrow of prohibition and all the noise that emanates from that city is from a small coterie of actual criminals and a few others financially interested in wringing profits from the distress of little children and the anguish of wives and mothers.

Says a writer in a recent issue of one of the metropolitan dailies, in commenting on the work of alcohol:

"He was drunker than I had ever seen him in all the years I had known him," said Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, testifying in the Oklahoma murder case that has been reported in the newspapers. "He choked me, and hit me, and threw me over on the bed. Then he beat me and slapped me two or three times, and took me by one foot and jerked me off the bed on my back. I had been operated on in the back, and it hurt me extremely. I struggled to my feet, and he choked me again, backed me against the window and choked me and slapped me. He wasn't satisfied with that, for he bent my fingers back and said he would break them. He reached for his knife and said, 'I would as soon slit your throat as draw on this cigar.'"

Then she shot him.

A young negro named Knight killed a woman in New Jersey, one hundred feet from her own house. He strangled and horribly mutilated her as she was walking peaceably home. He stood at the roadside in the dark, in the rain, waiting like a wild beast, to kill somebody, anybody that would come along.

"I done it," he said afterward. "I killed the lady. Don't blame nobody else." Then he lit a cigarette and signed his confession.

The negro was mistaken. It was not he that killed the woman. It was Alcohol.

There will be a deal of talk about the degeneracy of the negro in this case. Which is nonsense. The negro, if anything, is more peaceable and law-abiding than the white.

The same devil made Knight a brute that is making beasts of hundreds of white men and women every night in the roadhouses and speak-easies in New York.

It is the same demon that made Hamon a ruffian and cost him his life.

Booze was bad enough before prohibition set in. Now the stuff that is sold is utterly vicious.

The man who takes a drink now from a stranger or in a resort, is a fool.

Two men prominent in the business world stopped at a New York hotel some months ago. They got some whiskey from a bellboy. One of them died in a few days. The other went blind and died later.

Yet there are those who connive at the breaking of the law, and snigger at men and women who dope themselves into maudlin beastliness.

The arch criminal is Alcohol.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

X.—VIRGINIA

THE EARLY history of Virginia revolves about the name of Capt. John Smith. It was his indomitable spirit which enabled the settlement at Jamestown to survive the privations and difficulties that encompassed it during those first years. There in 1607 was made the first permanent English colony in America. The charter given by King James I to what was known as the London company, under whose auspices Jamestown and the later Virginia settlements were founded, designated that this colony should extend 200 miles north and 200 miles south of Old Point Comfort and stretch westward to the sea. Under the reign of Charles II it was considered such an important colony that it was called the fourth dominion of his empire, that is, England, Scotland, Ireland and Virginia. From this Virginia was often called the Old Dominion. The name Virginia itself means the virgin land and was so called after Queen Elizabeth, the "Virgin Queen." The early government of Virginia is of great interest. At first communism was tried, under which system the land and all property was owned in common and all profits were divided equally. This proved a disastrous failure. In 1619 the first real representative government in the colonies was established, called the house of burgesses, which continued in force under varying fortunes until Virginia joined the Union and became the tenth state in 1788. Much might be written of the character of the early Virginian settlers and their great influence on American life. From Virginia has sprung two other states, Kentucky and West Virginia. Even so, the state's present area is 42,627 square miles. Politically the Old Dominion state is entitled to twelve presidential electors. This is about the average of the southern states.

PRIVATE COMPANIES DRAIN PETROLEUM FROM NAVY LANDS

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Private corporations, by tapping wells and draining the oil from naval reserves have forced the navy to a decision to open up naval reserve Number 1 in California, Secretary of the Navy Den by announced today.

Bids for leases upon the oil property, now a naval reserve, will be called for shortly and the leases will be on a royalty basis, the secretary stated.

Private corporations operating wells close to the border of the naval reserves have drained the oil from the naval reserve lands and made it unprofitable to operate these reserves and therefore it has been decided to lease them, the secretary announced

SOVIET MUST FREE AMERICANS BEFORE EXPECTING FAVORS

WASHINGTON, April 16 — The United States will show no hospitality for any proposals from Soviet Russia either with regard to recognition or trade while Americans are still held prisoners in Russia, it was learned at the state department today.

The state department, it was said, is making every possible effort to secure the release of Capt. Emmett Kilpatrick and Mrs Ruth Harrison, and other Americans who are now held in prison in Russia.

These negotiations are made more difficult because this government has no representative in Russia.

POLICE AND BANDITS ENGAGE IN A BATTLE

ST. LOUIS, April 16—A pitched battle was fought early today between police and bandits who were attempting to loot a Missouri, Kansas and Texas freight train at Spanish Lake, five miles from here. Thirty shots were fired.

The bandits escaped in an automobile. It is not known whether any of them were wounded.

ESCH IS FAVORABLE SELECTION FOR THE I. C. COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, April 16. — The nomination of former Representative John J. Esch of Wisconsin, as member of the interstate commerce commission was reported favorably to the senate today by the senate interstate commerce committee.

Senator LaFollette member of the committee and Esch's political foe, disagreed with the committee action, but was overruled.

Early confirmation of Esch's nomination by the senate is predicted by Republican leaders.

FOUR JAILED FOR ROBBERY OF STORE

MANSFIELD, Ohio, April 16—Fred Black 18; Fred Secrist, 18; Guy Goldsmith, 24 and James Hiskey, 27 of Bellville are in the county jail in default of $3,000 bond, having been bound over by Mayor Garber, of Bellville on the charge of holding up and robbing the general store at Darlington.

Black and Secrist are alleged to have entered the store of Frank Strong between ten and eleven o'clock Thursday night while Hiskey stood guard outside and Goldsmith sat in the machine. Each bandit had a gun and each wore a mask. The two who entered the little store, ordered the proprietor to open the cash register.

Just then his son, Bert Strong came from the basement. He was ordered to throw up his hands, but not complying quick enough one of the bandits shot the big toe off the young man's left foot. The father then opened the cash register. He claims the bandits got $100.

They then drove back to Bellville, dividing the money as they went. Friday they were tracked by the automobile tracks and the name of the man who had hired the machine was ascertained. This was Black.

He with the other three were arrested at their homes in Bellville. Information from the sheriff's office is that Black has confessed.

Wood for the World's Pencils.

The Ozark hills of Missouri furnish wood for a great proportion of the world's supply of lead pencils. The trees are stunted red cedars which grow on the hillsides. Their trunks at the butt seldom attain a diameter of more than a foot. The red heart of the wood only is used. The white sap wood is rejected. The lumber is sawed up into "slats" and shipped to the factories in this country and abroad. No other wood seems to answer as well for this purpose.

The High School girls will have charge of the Fellowship Service this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the association rooms. The foreign trunk, sent from the Cincinnati office has arrived containing all sorts of interesting and suspicious things such as dolls, pictures, posters, curios and costumes from the various foreign countries where the Young Woman's Christian Association is established.

Miss Esther West, a resident of India, who is attending Denison university, at Granville, will speak on the lives of the women in her native land.

An informal hour will be enjoyed and tea will be served by the girls. Drop in when out for a walk and enjoy the quiet hour with us.

The Kolah club meets Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 to install their newly elected officers, and will have in connection with this, an interesting program. Get into the game, girls, and catch the spirit of the club. Really you cannot get the best out of your organization unless you attend all the meetings and become more active and closely associated with the work. Don't forget to come.

At the open forum Tuesday night, we have a real treat in store for us and one I am sure not one of us will want to miss. Mrs. Robert Todd will read in her pleasing and fascinating way, that interesting story of "The Queen's Necklace." And remember, there are only two more meetings on this schedule. The next one, April 28th will be held in connection with the federation meeting and Mr. Julius Stone, of Columbus, will show stereopticon pictures.

Thursday after school, the Go-Schack-Gunks go for a hike into the country. Just the ideal time of the year, girls, to get into the country and enjoy living. Last, but not least, bring along your lunch for you surely will have an appetite after that walk.

The True Blue club meets Friday at the rooms. Get in line, girls, and be on "deck."

Kolah girls go hiking Saturday, at 2:30, promptly. Keep that date open and get "all set" for a good time.

Of all your favorite movie actresses, who is more delightfully appealing, or more exquisitely dainty than Marguerite Clark and when I tell you she will appear in Coshocton, May 3rd and 4th in "A Girl Named Mary," you will be indeed pleased.

This benefit picture is being given under the auspices of the Girl Reserves to raise funds for the Oxford Conference in June.

Get busy on the tickets, girls, for this production.

That, despite unemployment, there is an almost uniform, steady demand for expert stenographers was stated by Miss Eugenia Wallace, Director of the Employment Bureau, New York City, Central Branch, Y. W. C. A., yesterday.

"Young attractive girls are almost invariably called for by the employers who insist on expert skill," said Miss Wallace. "A pleasing personality that inspires confidence is a definite business asset." Miss Wallace emphasized the fact that good jobs demand good people. "It is the indifferent, the mediocre type, and the middle aged who are suffering most thru unemployment. We are constantly urging girls to exert every effort to take up further training."

To help such girls now out of work many of the Y. W. C. A. business courses are dropping class fees. Within a single year Miss Wallace's Bureau placed 73,399 girls in positions.

"It does not please my honorable mother," is no longer the supreme criterion in Japanese households. At a feminist forum in which five thousand women participated recently in Toyko, the question of mother - in - law authority was one the minds of the audience. Other subjects discussed were dress and divorce laws. So great was the interest that nearly two thousand women had to be turned away.

'Long-sleeved kimonos get in the way of the typewriter and other work which Japanese girls are taking up," commented Miss Florence Wells of the Japanese Section, National Board, Y. W. C. A., yesterday. "Dress reform in Toyko now calls for a more practical adaptation of styles. A man who one of the leaders says it is only the vanity of mothers who start their children in long-sleeved kimonos and heavy wooden clogs. When the Japanese stenographer is late, she can't cover ground very fast in the latter."

Among the audience at the feminist meeting were many native members of the Y. W. C. A. Association in Toyko.

FOIBLES OF ANIMALS

"PETERSHAW has an extremely gentle driving horse," said the veterinary surgeon. "He has made the animal a member of his family for several years, and it was so gentle anybody could drive it. The other day

Petershaw made up his mind he would sell Dobbin, as he couldn't afford to buy breakfast food for him any longer. A man who wanted a horse dropped around, and Petershaw hitched Dobbin up, and that fool horse just naturally ran away and the two men are going around on crutches. It's hard to understand such a thing, for there never was a gentler horse."

"There are several explanations," remarked the village partiarch. "It is possible, even probable, that the horse understands everything Petershaw says, and when it heard him talking about selling, the noble animal put up a job to spoil the deal. Perhaps Dobbin has a strongly developed sense of humor, and thought such an escapade would be highly amusing, and we must admit that it was. I cannot imagine anything more humorous than to hitch up a perfectly gentle horse, and then have it act like a funnel-shaped cloud.

"There is no doubt that animals have a sense of humor. Unless we admit that, it is impossible to explain many things they do. I think the mule is a great jester. When a mule looks most innocent, he is most dangerous. You can tell when a horse is going to hand you a few sample heels as a testimonial of its esteem; it lays back its ears and switches its tail, and looks as vindictive as a rattlesnake. A reasonably active man can get out of the way when he sees a horse unlimbering its heavy artillery. But it's different with a mule. This highly sagacious animal will stand munching its fodder, every motion and every glance expressing peace on earth, good will toward men. The innocent bystander is saying to himself that he never did see such an amiable expression on an animal's face, and just then the gentle critter hands him a holiday assortment of feet, and when he recovers consciousness he can't find words that properly express his sentiments.

"The cow is another humorist. I have milked cows more or less all my days, and they all were addicted to harmless mirth. The cow I have now thoroughly enjoys batting me over the head with her tail. Of course there is some excuse in the summer for a cow that keeps her tail going; but there isn't any sense in such exercise in the winter, when the flies are dead. At this season my cow never brandishes her tail except at milking time. Then she keeps it going as though the flies were around her in clouds, and she has become so expert with her old tail that she pasted me on the left ear about ten times a minute, and then I had an earmuff made, and wore it whenever I milked. So she hits me on the nose every time, and it's simply wonderful how accurate her aim is.

"I had a cow once that I milked for four years and during that time she never lifted a foot or acted ornery in any way. I considered her the safest cow I ever saw. One evening there were some visitors from the city at our house, and they went to the barn lot with me to see me milk the cow. There were two or three ladies in the party, and as I milked I explained to them that the animal was a marvel when it came to docility. I said I didn't believe she would kick if a charge of powder went off under her. Of course the cow heard every word I said, and she simply couldn't resist the temptation to make me look like thirty cents, so, just when I was most enthusiastic in her praise, she landed a left hook on my chin and put me down for the count. Those city folks said that if she was a gentle cow they'd give fifty cents to see an unruly one, and I suppose they're talking about the event yet."

Shaken Out.

"The roads are pretty rough. The girls on the back seat are bouncing around."

"What's that metal dropping on the floor of the car?"

"Nothing serious. That's the shower of hairpins."

Special Price.

Owner—What will it cost me to have my car fixed?

Garage Man—What's the matter with it?

Owner—I don't know.

Garage Man—Forty-eight dollars and fifty cents.—New York Sun.

Highly Reprehensible.

"Well, ma, I gave young Mr. De Boots his conge last night."

"Laws, Amelia, you hadn't oughter be giving young men presents like that."

JEALOUSY PLAYS A LARGE PART IN THE STROLLERS PIECE

Jealousy is the theme of Clyde Fitch's play "The Girl With the Green Eyes" which is to be presented in the Sixth Street theatre Thursday evening, April 21 by The Strollers, the famous Ohio State University dramatic club.

The play deals largely with the life of a girl who inherits that weakness of character which causes so much pain, suffering to its owner, namely, jealousy.

Enny the heroine, is afflicted with a pair of green eyes thru which she sees life in distorted fashion. But jealousy is not the uppermost trait in her character at all times, she has quite charming attributes which win for her the love of a man whose nature is as big and strong as hers is weak. She loves this man with all her heart and they are married, but she is brave enough to warn him before the ceremony of her failing.

They begin their life together and for a time all goes well; then the green eyed monster rears its head and a near tragedy results. The play ends, however, in a thoroly satisfactory manner.

Along with the tense moments there are many fascinating touches of comedy, the result being a very well balanced production.

Audiences are always pleased with Clyde Fitch's famous jealousy play.

M'GANNON PUTS UP BAIL; IS RELEASED

CLEVELAND, April 16—William H McGannon, ex-chief justice of the Cleveland municipal court, is free this afternoon under bond of $5,000 having walked into Judge Bernons court today and entered a plea of "not guilty" to the indictment charging perjury.

The bond was signed by W. R. Breen.

"This is the silliest thing I ever heard of," he declared to Judge Bernon before entering his plea referring to the indictment.

BIG BUSINESS IS BLAMED FOR THE PRESENT UNREST

MARION, Ohio, April 16—"There are more heroes among the men who toil with their hands, rear and educate a family, and buy a home, than there are among business men. Business could rid the country of unrest in a year or two by a square deal," today declared O. E. Hawk, Youngstown, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Dealers addressing the first annual meeting of the Marion real estate board.

"America makes her own I. W. W. and creates her own unrest. We do not import it all. I advocate that the home owner should have the lowest rate of interest. Building has fallen off entirely too much. Today is the opportune time to build."

He said that the great problem confronting America today is taxation. Ora Winters, Youngstown, former Marionite, flayed the crepe hanger and pessimist and paid an eloquent tribute to President Harding.

Wilbur F. Neff, Columbus another former Marionite and now secretary of the Ohio Real Estate Dealers declared the return of good business conditions was up to the real estate men.

ABUSED WIFE KILLS HUSBAND, A PERSIAN

WASHINGTON, April 16. — Mrs. Abdul Hassin Mojavi, 22, is held here today for the shooting of her husband, a wealthy Persian antique dealer.

The police declare the woman has confessed to the shooting, stating "he treated me scornful"

The woman asked to visit the morgue where her dead husband had been taken and the police declare that she knelt at the side of the body, offered a prayer, kissed the dead man, and sobbed:—"Forgive me, Abdul. God forgive me."

Road Asks Bond Issue

WASHINGTON, April 16—The Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad company today asked the interstate commerce commission for authority to issue $182,000 of its first mortgage 50 year five per cent gold bonds.

CONGRESS PROPOSES TO ENACT NO SALES TAX, SAYS MONDELL

There will no sales tax imposed by congress said house Republican leader Mondell today in disposing of rumors that the advocacy of the tax was causing Republican dissension.

"There is to be a lifting of the present war burdens of the people instead of a shifting of the burdens," He continued. 'Taxes are to be reduced. The sales tax does not belong to the American system of taxation. It can be justified only as a war or emergency tax, or an unusual tax levied for some specific purpose."

"With the war tax going on three years, it is time for the United States to get off a war tax basis and go on a peace tax basis. Our country will be better off when the government lets up on its demands upon the people and permits them to retain and use their money in business in their own way. With the close of this fiscal year—June 30—we will cease paying on several war obligations and the expenditures by the government should be reduced and its needs lessened.'

PREOCCUPIED, HE FORGOT HIS CHILD

COLUMBUS, April 16—Not until several hours elapsed did W. F. Martin, 522 north twentieth-st, remember that when he got off a local street car he had forgotten to look after his 3-year-old daughter, Frances Martin, who had been riding with him. The child was taken to police headquarters.

When the father regained possession of little Frances he explained that he had not been used to having his daughter with him and that he never thot of her when he left the car at High and Long-sts.

The conductor gave the girl to a policeman who bot a sack of candy for her. She willingly went to police headquarters where she made numerous friends with her laughing and cooing.

PUPILS WILL VISIT AG. DEPARTMENTS IN TWO SCHOOLS

Friday April 22, the pupils of both the Coshocton and West Lafayette high schools will enjoy visitation day in the deparments of Vocational Agriculture West Lafayette as well as the Central high school has a department of vocational agriculture.

Vance Clever, Central high school director of the Smith-Hughes vocational agricultural training school will have full charge of demonstrating the value of the course at the Central school building, April 22 between 10 and 10:30 o'clock.

A. E. Halterman, Smith-Hughes vocational agricultural teacher at West Lafayette will have charge of the program on that date at West Lafayette.

Mr. Clever states that he believes the majority of boys and girls who will enter high school next fall have little or no idea of the nature or value of such a course. "Seeing is believing, and I believe it is a good idea to give the boys and girls who are interested in learning more about these agricultural courses an opportunity to visualize the benefits to be derived and I want to invite the pupils to visit the department at the Central school building or at the West Lafayette high school on that day," Mr. Clever announced.

According to Mr. Clever, this applies particularly to farm boys who will this year complete their eighth grade work or their work in a high school not offering a four year course and to those who have completed their eighth grade but are not now in school. "Those who are interested in Coshocton high school are invited to the Central school building between 10 o'clock and 10.30 o'clock. This will give them an opportunity before noon to see how the class room work is conducted," Mr. Clever asserted.

At noon a lunch will be served at the Central school building after which the plan of the course and other interesting matters will be discussed.

Provision will also be made to entertain at the same time any boy or girl who is not interested in agriculture but who may be interested in other high school work.

Mrs. Eva Swartz, Hamilton-av, underwent a minor operation at the City hospital Saturday. Dr. J. W. Shaw assisted by Dr. Lister Pomerene performed the operation.

Nature Plays Prank At Conesville Home

Mrs. John McCoy of Conesville is the possessor of a Christmas cactus plant, in bloom, Mrs. McCoy stated to a Tribune reporter Saturday. "This is something unusual at this time of the year," Mrs McCoy asserted

The plant is two feet in diameter and is made up of several hundred pink blossoms. Each blossom is about two inches in length and one-half inch in width.

Mrs. McCoy also brot to the Tribune office a miniature hen egg. The egg resembles a curved gourd. The egg is an inch and one-half long.

Would Cut Pay Of Teachers In Country

AKRON, April 16—A general reduction in teachers' salaries in the rural schools was predicted today at the meeting of the district superintendents. It is claimed wages are being reduced thruout the state and the school boards should consider the same expediency.

Why You Must Have Iron to Make Your Body Strong and Your Brain Keen

Alert and Powerful—Value of Spinach and Organic Iron to Help Make Rich Red Blood and Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

WITH PLENTY OF BLOOD AND IRON, YOUR BRAIN is the most wonderful thing in all creation but without these it is nothing. IRON TAKES OXYGEN from your lungs and carries it to your brain. Without iron your brain gets no oxygen; and without plenty of rich red blood and oxygen your brain becomes dull and heavy, YOUR INTELLECT POOR, your memory fails, YOU DO FOOLISH THINGS, make bad decisions and you really amount to nothing, so far as accomplishing anything of importance is concerned.

Also without iron YOUR BLOOD BECOMES THIN AND WATERY and loses its power to change food into living cells and tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it.

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES IN YOUR BLOOD AND EACH ONE MUST HAVE IRON.

When, as a result of iron starvation you get up feeling tired in the morning, when you find yourself nervous, irritable and easily upset; when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but eat more spinach and other iron-containing vegetables and take organic iron with them to help enrich your blood and revitalize your wornout exhausted nerves. But be sure that the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic or mineral iron which people usually take. Organic iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Organic iron may be had from your druggist under the name of NUXATED IRON. Nuxated Iron represents organic Iron in such a highly concentrated form that one dose is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating half a quart of spinach or one quart of green vegetables. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD-GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

SCIENTIST OF NOTE TO HEAD TECHNOLOGY

Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols, Former President of Dartmouth College and Discoverer of Great Cosmic Laws, to Direct Boston Tech

CLEVELAND, April 16.—Did you know that there is a device with which the heat radiated by a candle can be measured sixteen miles away? Neither did we until Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols was elected president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology the largest scientific university in the country. He will take his office July 1st.

At present Dr. Nichols, who is a former president of Dartmouth College, is director of pure science at Nela Park, where one of the largest laboratories in the world is maintained by the Illuminating Company, which furnished light and power to Cleveland homes and industries.

He designed this apparatus to measure the heat radiated by the stars. It consists of two delicate vanes hung in a glass bulb on a fine quartz fiber. One side of each vane is painted black. Due to the fact that the blackened sides absorb more heat than the shiny sides, the slightest heat tends to make the vanes revolve and to twist the fiber on which they are hung.

By measuring the amount the fiber is twisted the amount of heat can be calculated.

Astronomers tell us some stars are so far away that it takes light more than one hundred years to reach us.

"So the heat I was measuring had left the stars long before I was born," said Dr. Nichols.

Light Exerts Pressure

Among other scientific discoveries credited to Dr. Nichols is that a beam of light exerts a pressure just as does any article the weight of which can be measured by physical means.

Scientists for 300 years have been working to demonstrate this fact.

"What is the value of it?" the correspondent asked.

Dr. Nichols answered:

"A scientist discovered that an electric wire when heated throws off electrons. People said: 'Very interesting, no doubt, but how does the matter concern us.'

For Instance:

"When you talk by long distance telephone to San Francisco you're employing a practical application of that discovery. Without it the wireless telephone would be impossible.

"It is all very well to say that what we want is applied science, but you can't apply a thing until after it is discovered.

"At Massachusetts Institute of Technology I hope to keep a proper balance between pure and applied science.

"Pure science unearths a fact. Applied science puts it to use.

"Possibly a dozen people today understand the Einstein theory. It's well within the realm of possibility, however, that some day all of us will be using devices growing out of it."

SHE MAY GET HIGH APPOINTMENT IN AMERICAN EMBASSY

Miss Lucille Atcherson.

The appointment of Miss Lucille Atcherson of Columbus, O., as secretary of the U. S. embassy in Paris is being favorably considered by President Harding. According to reports the appointment would not be unpleasing to Myron Herrick, who is slated to be ambassador to France. This appointment would, of course, be a precedent in diplomatic affairs, for it is a service in which women never have had any formal standing. Miss Atcherson was engaged in war relief work in France with Anne Morgan, and therefore Mr. Herrick is not unfamiliar with her work.

Two Remarkable Rides.

A remarkable achievement of an English rider dates back to Shakespearian days. Robert Carey is said to have ridden from Whitehall to Edinburgh, 400 miles, in three days, carrying the news of the death of Queen Elizabeth to James VI. He made another noted ride from London to the Netherlands, with the news of Cardinal Wolsey's death, traveling by boat from London to Gravesend and riding the intermediate distances. He left London, according to the accounts, at 4 o'clock one afternoon and was back in London at sunset the second day thereafter.

To Own An Enclosed Electric

is the ambition of a great many families—the desire to posses an easily operated and safe form of conveyance which every member of the home can drive.

The present-day electric has advanced in improvement along with the gas car—speed has risen from fourteen miles per hour to as high as twenty nine; mileage on each charge has increased from thirty-five to as high as ninety. Increased factors of safety have been introduced such as electric brakes, automatic power cut-offs, etc., that make the driving simple, safe for the youngest or oldest driver in the household.

With an automatic charger installed at your garage, the operating cost goes as low as 7-8 of a cent per mile, which is far below that of the smallest gas car.

As to costs, the Electric is more commodious than formerly but is selling new at retail between four and five thousand dollars. This expenditure would cause many, who would otherwise enjoy an Electric, to eliminate the idea of ownership—but, as styles of model change but little from year to year, and since tires and batteries represent the only large items of depreciation, with these latter renewed and carrying guarantees, the mechanism rebuilt, painting, dry cleaning interior, silver plating, etc., added, you have, to all intents and purposes, a new Electric.

This big difference is—investment. Beautiful models—any one of which you would be proud to drive—are constantly "comign thru" and are on display in our new show room in Cleveland ready for demonstration and sale. This past Monday we shipped two of our late models with chargers, to two of your well known citizens owning stores on Main Street, unloaded the cars Wednesday, connected the chargers Thursday—and these families are happily driving those cars around town today—and can go far over the hills and into the country. Before you buy, why not investigate the—

SAM GOMPERS TAKES A YOUTHFUL BRIDE

NEW YORK, April 16—Samuel Gompers is married again.

Despite elaborate plans to keep the second matrimonial venture of the aged labor leader—he is 71 years old—from public notice, they became known in the last minute and the press hovered in the lobby of the hotel Woodward, today when Judge Robert Wagner, long time friend, performed the ceremony making Mrs. Gertrude Gleaves Neuscheler, of New York, the wife of the president of the American Federation of Labor.

The bride is 38 years old and is a daughter of Thomas J. Gleaves, of Zanesville, Ohio.

Immediately after the wedding the couple prepared to leave for Toronto on the honeymoon.

Mr. Gompers' first wife, who was Miss Sophia Julian and who like Gompers himself was a native of London, England, died last fall.

They had been married fifty three years. Gompers having married her when she was only 16 years old. She bore him six children.

Gompers met his second wife some years ago at Trenton, N. J. after he had delivered a lecture. They renewed their acquaintance shortly after his first wife's death.

The new Mrs. Gompers was divorced from her husband only last Wednesday tho they had lived separately for some time. Mrs. Irvin Brown and Miss Elsie Gleaves, sisters of the bride, both of Trenton, were among the relatives and intimate friends attending the wedding. The couple secured their marriage license at an early hour this morning.

FRANCE WILL TRY TO FORCE GERMANY

PARIS, April 16.—An extraordinary war council was held today by the leading ministers and military chiefs of France, to study the military and economic measures to be taken to force Germany into compliance with the reparations terms on or after May 1.

Marshal Foch and his chief of staff, General Weygand, outlined the military steps deemed necessary. France relies on Britain and Belgium to help them.

An inter-allied conference is to take place early next month in Paris.

Need Rest Period.

Every schedule for a permanent worker should have some kind of rest period in the afternoon when she shall be free to go to her room, to dress or to go out if she wants to without question. If such a definite period is assigned to her she will be more likely to get her work done in time.

STATUS OF BEER AND WINE IS UNSETTLED

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The beer and wine problem may be taken up from an entirely new angle and orders may be given to "scrap" tentative regulations drafted for later approval, prescribing limits to the amounts allowed under doctor's prescriptions each month, it was learned at the treasury today.

Complaint was made to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon from different sources that the proposed regulation setting arbitrary limits upon the malt and vinous liquors, was not responsive to the opinion of former Attorney General Palmer. He was informed also the rough draft which it was proposed to lay before the new commissioner of internal revenue in reality was prepared prior to the writing of the Palmer ruling.

Officials said it is probable that when the new revenue commissioner qualifies he will direct that the new regulation be arranged so no doubt will exist that they carry out the construction of the Volstead law as interpreted by the department of justice. If this is done the government will not place a limit upon the amount of beer or wine prescribed for a patient within a given period.

HARVEY AND HERRICK TO BE AMBASSADORS

WASHINGTON, April 16—The nominations of George Harvey as ambassador to London and Myron T. Herrick as ambassador to Paris, were reported favorable to the senate today by the senate foreign relations committee.

The committee's action was taken without a record vote, threatened Democratic opposition to Harvey's ambassadorship failing to materialize.

Conscience Money.

There are some conscientious people left and some of the amounts paid are large. The record was set up in 1843 by a man who sent $70,000 to the chancellor of the exchequer, explaining it represented illicit gains of a lifetime of smuggling.

CANTWELL'S

ITALY IS INTERESTED IN RESTORING AUSTRIA

PARIS, April 16.—The first diplomatic result of President Harding's message to congress "scrapping the League of Nations," was seen today in a note from Italy to the allies suggesting that it is a mistake to refer to the league of nations the work of restoring Austria financially.

Italy, in her note, points to America's hostility to the league as shown by President Harding's message and inquires how the allies can expect financial support from America for restoring Austria.

The note suggests the creation of an independent body to handle the Austrian problem.

BUICK

Authorized Buick Service — Emblem of Satisfaction

—The many telegrams from all sections of the country received by Buick during the past few weeks asking for immediate delivery of Buick cars tell a significant story.

—They prove the confidence of the public in Buick. Reflected in the placing of these Buick orders at a time when sales are being made upon the basis of greater relative values and actually demonstrated worth.

—In many cases, this active buying is stimulated by a realization of the periodical shortage of Buick cars and a desire to insure delivery.

—Since January first, regular equipment on all models includes cord tires.

Man's Small Importance.

Following is by Samuel Johnson: "The truth is that no man is much regarded by the rest of the world. He that considers how little he dwells upon the condition of others will learn how little the attention of others is attracted by himself. While we see multitudes passing before us of whom, perhaps, not one appears to deserve our notice or excite our sympathy, we should remember that we, likewise, are lost in the same throng; that the eye which happens to glance upon us is turned in a moment on him that follows us, and that the utmost which we can reasonably hope, or fear, is to fill a vacant hour with prattle, and be forgotten."

This Curfew Has a History.

Several of the curfew bells in England are kept ringing because of some old legend or custom. That at Chertsey, in Surrey, for instance, which had been rung regularly for centuries until stopped temporarily during the great war, is the one made famous by the legend which relates how Blanche Herior, to save the life of her lover, condemned to die at sundown, climbed the curfew tower and held the clapper of the great bell, declaring that "curfew shall not ring tonight."

To Make a Hole in Glass.

To make a hole in glass make a circle of clay or cement rather larger than the intended hole; pour some kerosene into the cup thus formed, ignite it, place the plate upon a moderately hard support, and with a stick rather smaller than the hole required and a hammer strike a rather sharp blow. This will leave a rough-edged hole, which may be smoothed with a file. Cold water is said to answer even better than a blow.

Uncle Walt's Story By Walt Mason

BAD HABITS

"YOU would be a much more agreeable man," observed the professor, "if you would abandon the disgusting tobacco habit. Your aroma taints the breeze to such an extent that I know you are coming before I can see you."

"I'm glad to hear that," said the low-browed man. "Some people go to great expense engaging advance agents, but I never believed in useless extravagance. If a ten cent package of tobacco will do as good service as a high salaried advance agent, I'd be foolish to keep the ten cents.

"People are always asking me why I don't quit tobacco, and I've always noticed that the people who regard my little innocent habit with disgust, have worse ones of their own. Why don't you quit wearing sidewhiskers, when you must know that they jar the nerves of the fastidious, and make you look like something that should be in a museum? What sense is there in wearing sideboards? I'd be the last to speak slightingly of an infirmity or deformity. If you had a game leg or wry neck, my heart would be full of sympathy for you. Such afflictions should not be mocked or held up to scorn by any man; but nobody needs to wear sidewhiskers. It's something that can easily be helped. You shouldn't make caustic remarks about the tobacco habit until you have had those fire escapes removed.

"Old Doolittle asks me about three times a week what pleasure I find in using tobacco. I have explained the matter to him repeatedly, but nothing I say seems to make any impression on him. He clings to the belief that smoking is on a level with robbing a church or defrauding a widow.

"He doesn't use tobacco, but he has about every other bad habit you can think of. When it comes to spoiling the truth he could give cards and spades to the whole Ananias family. I try to be reasonably truthful. I never spring a fish story unless it will serve a good purpose. But Doolittle will go to all sorts of trouble to hand you a falsehood. If he says he has the toothache, you may rest assured it's a sprained ankle that's bothering him. I contend that it's worse to sit on the truth and hold it down than it is to load a good old briar and blow out a few reams of smoke.

"Aunt Julia is always lecturing me about the tobacco habit. I have said it a hundred times, and I say it again, that my aunt is all wool and a yard wide, and you would travel far before finding a better female, but if you think she has no bad habits you have another guess coming. Two or three years ago she read some English society novels. Those stories are full of tea parties. A man reading them would think the Britishers spent all their time at tea fights.

"Aunt Julia thinks that anything British is entirely proper, and she got the idea that you can't be fashionable unless you consume a certain amount of tea. So she blew herself for the herb, and began drinking it. At first she said it tasted like colic medicine, but she persevered, and now she's the champion middle weight tea drinker of this burg. I won't say anything about the money it costs. She insists upon having imported tea, and won't be satisfied with any home grown substitutes, although sage tea is far better and costs next to nothing.

"She gets on a tea jag every time she has company, and then for two or three days she has a hangover, and her nerves are a sight to be seen, and I just wish you had to live in the same house with her at such times. Then you would be willing to admit that there are worse things than smoking."

"Talking, for instance," sighed the professor.

Virgin Islands Export Sugar.

The most important agriculture in the Virgin islands is sugar, of which approximately ten thousand tons was exported in 1919. In 1919 the government succeeded in opening the Porto Rican market to cattle from the islands. About $30,000 worth of cattle were exported, and it is thought that the cattle-raising industry will eventually become an important one. Exportation of cattle to Porto Rico formerly was prohibited on the ground that the Virgin Islands were in the tick-infested area.

Many Times.

Young Col. Theodore Roosevelt was taken to task at a dinner in Albany, by a young matron.

"I should have thought," she said, reproachfully, "that you'd have stuck to the army, colonel."

"But politics is so much more exciting," the young legislator retorted.

"Politics more exciting than war?"

"Yes, indeed," said Colonel Roosevelt. "In war, you see, you can be killed only once, but think how many times you can be killed in politics!"

Real Meaning of "Gymnasium."

If pupils entered a gymnasium in their birth attire the instructor would receive a shock. All the same, the word "gymnasium" is derived from a Greek word meaning naked; for the old Grecian athletes used to strip before exercise.

When to Leave People Alone.

It's a mark of generalship to know where the other fellow is touchy. It is an evidence of mastery to be able to keep hands off when you have such fine opportunities for prodding him up a bit. It's human nature to "put it to a fellow" when you have the chance. You argue he would do it to you if he could. Yet what's the gain in such conduct? Any one can do the mean petty things that ruin peace and disrupt routine. The world has thousands in it who are feeling themselves the continual butt of ridicule. Everything that is done seems to be a direct attack on their conduct. They are constantly miserable and seeking for some one to tell their troubles to. They are mad at themselves most of the time. The wise man lets them alone even when he has a chance to even up some of their pettiness.—Grit.

TROUBLES MEAN NOTHING TO HIM

NEW YORK, April 16.—Sued for divorce by "wife number 1," deserted by "wife number 2," under inquiry by the Hudson-co grand jury, sought on a Greenwich, Conn., warrant, charging bigamy and perjury and homeless, Herbert T. Andrews, the twice married but undivorced young stock broker today flung out his chest and exclaimed dramatically:—

"Herb Andrews will never say die. Wait and see. I'm coming out of this thing a bigger and stronger figure than ever before."

Then with a mysterious confidential air he dropped hints of a third woman, whom he says is ready to stand by him thru thick and thin, back him financially, testify for him, 'n everything,' but a moment later deep gloom spread over his face as he related that his 25 year old second wife, Mrs. Esther M. Tatnall Andrews left him flat in the middle of dinner at an uptown hotel. He thinks she has gone to her mother's home in Pittsburg. He does not know where she got the money for it, but to reporters two days ago, the vivacious and petite blonde had proved she was well stocked, producing an imposing roll of crisp yellowbacks from her silk hose and promptly restoring it to that distinctly feminine repository.

Andrews expressed the belief—and this depressed him still more—that "Darling," for thus he calls "number 2," is going to sue him for annulment

Say "Threaded Rubber Insulation"

The Willard Threaded Rubber Battery is immune to all old-time wood-separator ills. The plates are insulated—not merely separated.

No money out of your pocket for separator replacement, because Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation neither warps, cracks, carbonizes nor punctures. It outlasts the battery plates.

Ask about the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery—the only battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation.

WOULD LICENSE ALL CABLE LANDINGS ON SHORES OF AMERICA

WASHINGTON, April 16—The senate interstate commerce committee today authorized Senator Kellogg, Representative, Minnesota: to report to the senate his bill empowering the president to grant licenses for cable landings upon the shores of the United States and forbidding such cable landings unless authorized by the president

Violation of the proposed act is penalized by a fine of not more than $5.000 and imprisonment of not more than a year.

Two amendments suggested by Kellogg were approved and he was asked to submit them to the state department for its approval.

They were withheld from publication.

CONVICTS HUNTED FOR AN ASSAULT

WHEELING, W Va., April 16—Hundreds of aroused farmers today are scouring Brooke county for the escaped convicts, one a negro who criminally assaulted Mrs John Harne, mother of two children at Wellsburg last night

A sheriff's posse is attempting to capture the convicts first to prevent a lynching

The convicts, "Bulldog" Davis negro, and John Connors, white sawed their way to freedom fro mthe county jail at Wellsburg last night While fleeing thru the town, they met Mrs Harne, overcame her and dragged her unconscious form thru the main street to a nearby hillside

She was found later covered with bruises and with her clothing torn from her body She is in a hospital here and may not recover

OHIO'S PEACH CROP IS A TOTAL LOSS

COLUMBUS, April 16 Almost complete destruction of Ohio's peach crop excepting a counties along Lake Erie is announced by C J West, federal agricultural statistician for Ohio He estimated that the freezing temperature which prevailed turnout the state early this week resulted in a total damage of from 75 to 90 per cent for the entire state

The reason assigned for lack of damage in the counties bording the lake is that the trees were not in bloom.

Newspaper Man Is Given A Job

WASHINGTON, April16—President Harding will appoint E I Lewis chairman of the state public service commission of Indiana, as a member of the interstate commerce commission, according to a report at the white house today

Lewis is from Indianapolis and a former newspaper man.

HOOVER TO PUT U. S. ON THE MAP

Secretary of Commerce Has Plans to Establish Fighting Front for American Manufacturers and Shippers

WASHINGTON, April 16—A fighting line for American commerce—that is the aim of Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce

American industry now consists of a supply train and a general staff, according to the Secretary of Commerce Applying these military terms to the American trade situation, the Secretary explains, that American manufacturers have supplies to offer foreign nations and they have channels of foreign trade, but they are lacking in forces at the foreign trade front to fight for world business.

The department of Commerce in its efforts to expand the foreign trade of the UnitedStates will seek to establish a fighting front by encouraging American manufacturers to gain a foothold in the foreign lands and enter into vigorous competition for trade

Plan Far East Expansion.

Establishment of American wholesale houses throughout the entire Far East is one of the plans which the Department of Commerce has under consideration for recommendation to American Manufacturers. With a chain of American wholesale houses, each staffed with salesmen to cover their districts American producers will be prepared to meet the competition of the British, the French and the Belgians, who are now getting a large slice of the Oriental trade, according to the experts af the Department of Commerce Chains of wholesale houses throughout the entire world may be expected to follow the establishment of such houses in the Orient, it is stated.

For the purpose of creating a fighting front for American commerce, Secretary Hoover is now holding numerous conferences with the representatives of various industries, and it is expected that with the proper co-operation between Government and industry the next year may see a grand offensive for expansion of the foreign trade of the United States.

Seek "Fighting Front."

The iron and steel industry and the oil industry are the only two American industries which have as yet established what the Secretary of Commerce calls a "fighting front," but it is pointed out that the creation of foreign branches of these two industries have already shown great results and offer encouragement to other industries

Plans are in the making for the expansion of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, and it is expected that Secretary Hoover will prevail upon one of the biggest business men in the United States to accept the post of director of this bureau to direct the efforts on the fighting front.

Efforts Are Made To Kill Organized Labor

Asserts an Attempt Being Made in New York State to Establish Industrial Autocracy

ALBANY N Y April 16—There is an attempt to establish an "industrial autocracy in this country which organized labor will oppose and destroy, just as the republics did during the great war" President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor declared in an address before the special convention of the state federation of labor this afternoon.

"The evidence of the conduct of the men on the bench in Albany gives positive proof of this," he declared, vigorously condemning the alleged anti-labor attitude of Governor Miller's administration

"The legislature of the state," Mr Gompers added, "is endeavoring by hook or crook the establishment of a state of slavery They want to rivet by law the concept of the master's ownership of the workers.

"They have forgotten the one fact—that in that effort they have started too late They are just five generations behind their time"

The action of the legislators, the labor leader declared, was "not so much misrepresentation as it was an indictment against the criminality of those who have been trusted with the votes of the people of the Empire state."
